August Program - August 25, 2022

If you did not finish cleaning out your sewing room during COVID lock down and still have items that you'd like to part with that are a little nicer than what you would put on free table, feel free to include them in The Member Sale. Members may sign up to have a table of their own at the August meeting for $5 and bring any items (usually sewing/quilt related but not mandatory) they wish to sell. Each "seller" will make their own arrangements to take payment by cash, check or credit card-(The guild does not take responsibility for that) and you can sign up for a table by the end of day on:

Monday, September 22, 2022 by calling Christine Canelo at (916) 769-5690 so we can have enough tables available.

It's Golden Valley Quilt Guilds
20th Anniversary!

Join us as we celebrate at this month's meeting.

Snippets . . . from the president

August Musings - Twenty years ago, this month a group of women, wanting to come together for quilting and companionship, formally started this guild. It's hard to believe that we have thrived and become the guild we are today. This month we are going to have a little celebration and give ourselves a little pat on the back. This guild has grown and we have quilters of all levels. To those that are newish please ask if you have any questions, join mini groups, help out on committees. By doing this you will get to know some of the most wonderful people and form some real lasting relationships. Even the oldies love getting to know and helping the newbies.

Can you believe that it's already August? It seems as though this year is flying by way too fast, and that I don't feel like I have accomplished as much as I should have by now. I was still struggling with my challenge piece for the luncheon. I'm not sure why since it's fairly small. The idea in my head is just not transferring to my quilt the way I want it to. But at some point, very soon, I'm going to have to just call it done and move on. I think that sometimes we just put too much pressure on ourselves. We are always trying to do our best . . . make the best choices . . . set an example for others . . . do it all . . . and don't let anyone down. With all these kinds of thoughts running through our brains it blocks all the inspiration, joy, and creativeness. And that's not so much fun. So today I went back to the drawing board and I'm just playing with an idea. Changing and moving things around as I go. I am much happier with the process and the result. So if things aren't quite going to plan, maybe it's just the universe telling us there is another way and another plan that may be even better than we thought. So take your time with your projects. Enjoy the process. Even enjoy the parts that you aren't so crazy about doing. Don't let it take away your joy or become a struggle. Don't over think it!

Hope to see you at guild!

Sew-Along News

The Sew-Along selection for August 13, 2022 is:
Pointless - 52" x 61"

- ¼ yd each of 3 yellows, 2 greys, 1 pink
- Background....1¾ yd
- Binding....½ yd

It's back to school time once again. Why not relive your youth and add some humor with a pencil quilt? I found navy background fabric with gold and silver stars. I admit I got my fair share of red and blue stars too, but loved seeing the gold and silver ones on my papers. Sadly, I hear teachers today can't motivate that way.

This pattern also has a mini version titled Lil' Pointless, available on the Running Doe website.

We will be doing strip sewing then sub cutting and attaching rectangles. No HST, no flying geese, no curves. Nothing to take your mind off your Zoom conversation. Stay cool indoors and join us on Zoom for a sewing/gab session this Saturday from 10am – 2pm. Carolyn will send out an invitation and link to our Zoom session early Saturday morning. Look for it in email.

The pattern is available at Swifty Stitches for $2, or you may purchase a digital copy on the Villa Rosa website. There's also a mini version of the quilt, titled "Lil' Pointless". Purchase a digital copy of the little quilt on the Running Doe website. If you're sewing this one for Community Service, ask Hazel for a 60" x 70" piece of our new Dream Green batting. It's long-arm friendly!

And if you like to plan ahead, you have a decision to make for September. You have a choice between two similar patterns. Wistful uses a jelly roll or 40 - 2½" strips; while Tulsa Town uses 15 FQ or 27 - 3½" strips. Both patterns make a 57" x 72" quilt. Hazel made a wheel-chair version of Tulsa Town, pictured in last month's newsletter. Contact her for specifics. This session is September 24th, after we've had a chance to recover from our wonderful luncheon.

Linda Sliepen

Rules:

1. We meet on Zoom. Stay in your jammies if you wish; or feel free to get a group together and log in as one.
2. Our session is from 10am – 2pm. Stay with us for 4 hours or as long as you can. Feel free to pop in only long enough to say "hello."
3. Sew it for yourself. If it isn't as spectacular as you hoped for, finish it for Community Service.
4. The project we are demonstrating is a suggestion. Feel free to do your own thing. Do embroidery, bindings, mending. Do nothing. Sit and chat.
5. If you find a pattern you think the group would like, suggest it for an upcoming session.
6. Watch your Saturday "Zoom" by mobile phone, tablet or computer.

Share & care

Hazel Williams - I had an unfortunate meeting with a dog on July 14. Here's the story....

I was invited for lunch and cards at my friend's (Selma), home. She lives in a "Granny House" next to her daughter's (Shelly) huge home at the end of a dead-end road in Orangevale. They share the back yard.

I parked my red car in front of Shelly's home, & started walking to Selma's. Shelly's dog, a Springer Spaniel, which was suppose to be confined, attacked me. It tore skin on my left knee in 2 places with its paw, and bit my left little finger severely.

Shelly's teenage son saw the attack and stopped the dog, or it could have been worse. (Fortunately, I wasn't knocked down.) He ran inside to alert Shelly, who is a nurse; & also, fortunately, was home.

My finger was bleeding so badly, I couldn't stop it; so by the time I rang Selma's doorbell, there was a trail of blood on the sidewalk.

Shelly came running over & took over. Hanging my hand over the sink, she poured peroxide again & again over my finger until the wound stopped fizzing.

I was traumatized. Seeing all that fizzing was too much for me; I could feel myself going to faint. I was sitting on a bar stool, so Selma got ice packs and held me up. I became extremely clammy, soaking my blouse. I didn't completely faint, but came awfully close.

Shelly suggested I go to Emergency to get stitches. I didn't want to further ruin my day, so I told her to wrap my finger tightly instead.

Once all the bandages (2 on my knee and 3 on my finger were put on, they helped me to the sofa to recover. I felt awful for some time.

The blood oozed out of the bandages on my finger all day. (I should have gone to Emergency for stitches.)

Next morning I found blood on my sheet. I sent a message to my doctor. I told him Shelly informed me the dog had all its shots, so it didn't have Rabies; & I believed my Tetanus shot was up-to-date. My doctor responded right away, prescribing an antibiotic.

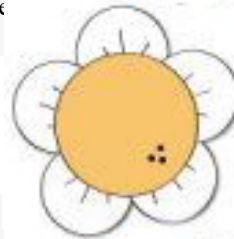

It took 7 days for the deep, jagged wound in my finger to stop bleeding. I feel I was blessed the dog only had 3 teeth; otherwise, it might have bit my finger off!!!

Community Service Sew Day

A Heartfelt Community Service Sew Day Thank-you!

The current Community Service Sew Day project doesn't really fall under Programs or Community Service, although it started with an idea Linda had while Sheila was Program Chair back in 2017. Until then, once a year, the guild picked a Saturday to sew and a small handful of members participated. Then, on a dark and stormy night, Judi M and Linda traveled the opportunity quilt to Foothill Guild in Auburn. They walked into a room full of ladies happily sewing away. The Foothill president explained they discovered they got a much better turnout when they moved their community service sew day to a scheduled meeting night because the ladies were already planning to attend. Linda told Sheila about the Foothill program. Together they brought the idea to the board for approval and away they went with their labor of love. And that, ladies and gentlemen, is why there seems to be some confusion every year as the new board takes over and people grasp their new positions whole heartedly. No one wants to drop the ball or abandon the orphan, but they don't see the project on their list of responsibilities.

A heartfelt thank-you to Pat Fryer at Villa Rosa Designs for once again generously donating our pattern selection. This is the fourth year she has donated pattern cards to our guild. Thank you to the 45 guild members who came and participated as well as those who could not attend but sent in completed quilts. This was our best post Covid turnout and we had a great time. We had quite an array of red, white and blue. Lauren M sent us a great example in Christmas fabric and Sharon B provided a stunning quilt in black, green with polka dot stars. Our masterpieces will be posted on the Villa Rosa and Golden Valley Facebook pages as soon as we get pictures of your completed tops. Pictures should be sent by text or email to Sheila Galuza or Linda Sliepen.

There are still a few copies of Star Spangled available at the Membership table if you did not already pick one up.

Membership

There were 45 members present for our July Community Sew-in.

We had one guest join us, who came prepared to sew, and joined the guild that night. Welcome to Laurene Fitzpatrick!

The door prize donated by Swifty Stitches- a quilt bucket- was won by new member, Becky Montgomery. The membership door prize was also given out.

Sharon Baxter & Janet Gilstrap
